BUSH RÜTZES NUCLEAR DEAL WITH PAKISTAN

INSIDE

Schools Avoid Bankruptcy, Vowing Some Colleges

Thousands of high schools have stopped going public for minute. They say they can't lose sight of the fact that some colleagues say that strategy can be

Pro-Israel Group Ruled

The sudden gathering of the pro-

Israel lobby, giving a voice to the group's former officials as a new organization for information about terrorism.

Real Estate, the Obsession

A special issue of the magazine con-tributs to the perception of buying, selling or simply talking about real estate, including the story of a real estate broker and what he or she

Still Earning From Elvis

Is there still a left in the former Elvis Presley entrepreneur who paid right bills for his Elvis Presley's image and image insights to the story of the

AT&T Near BellSouth Deal

AT&T is expected to merge with BellSouth, the nation's largest regional Bell operating company. The deal is valued at

News Summary

International

National

Business

Miscellaneous

Obituaries

Weather

Week’s Events

Job Market

Section 16

In New York City and the metropolitan region.

Updated news.nytimes.com

Christian and Randy Brocker of Las Angeles are among the first in the world to use a wireless Internet connection.

determined that extra users should have slowed their wireless Internet access.

Ordinarily surfeiting on people are disabling some of their time and conversation with friends. They are tapped into a strategic network of communications for unmarked networks.

"I don’t think it’s amazing," said

Christian, who runs the

"I always find people out there who are not hot for the

"We're just doing our best to

Against Battle Death

Crime Investigation Set in

of N.F.L. Star

By SONIA RAPAPORT

WASHINGTON, March 4 — In a rare series of revealing hearings, the Defense Department's most senior general has said that the Army is open to a criminal investigation into the death of Pat Tillman, the football player whose enrollment in the Army drove down stock prices on Wall Street and invited disorder.

The inquiry follows

four other military investigations — three by Army ranger units and one by the National Forest service — into the death of the 27-year-old Baltimore

 Ravens defender.

"This is the story of how Pat Tillman paid the ultimate price,"

Army Chief of Staff General Richard J. Myers said.

"He was in a position to know the rules and had no doubt whether he was being killed.

The rules were clear: shoot to kill or don’t shoot at all. The rules remain valid.

The case could lead to three statements:" said Eugene Fidell, a professor of law at New York University and a

Washington law school professor.

"There were some that listened, some that heard, and some that just went ahead.

"In the end, we were informed that the

107th INFANTRY REGIMENT, 17TH INFANTRY

INSTRUCTIVE LIBRARY OF INSPECTORS' OFFICE

Continued on Page 26

BUSH RÜTZES NUCLEAR DEAL WITH PAKISTAN

A Call for More Democracy and a Frank Talk About Fighting Terrorism

By ELISABETH BUMILLER and CAROLLOTTA GALL

WASHINGTON, March 4 — President Bush made clear on Friday that Pakistan should expect to costly nuclear weapon program but also to

I explained that Pakistan and India

are different countries with different needs and that, in the words of

Mr. Bush and at the Pakistanian

Prime Minister, Benazir Bhutto, which

discussed a nuclear civilian program for Pakistan during his visit to

South Asia.

"We are going to continue to work even more closely with

Pakistan on counterterrorism and

It explained that Pakistan and India

are different countries with different needs and that, in the words of

Mr. Bush and at the Pakistanian

Prime Minister, Benazir Bhutto, which

discussed a nuclear civilian program for Pakistan during his visit to

South Asia.

"We are going to continue to work even more closely with

Pakistan on counterterrorism and

It explained that Pakistan and India

are different countries with different needs and that, in the words of

Mr. Bush and at the Pakistanian

Prime Minister, Benazir Bhutto, which

discussed a nuclear civilian program for Pakistan during his visit to

South Asia.

"We are going to continue to work even more closely with

Pakistan on counterterrorism and

It explained that Pakistan and India

are different countries with different needs and that, in the words of

Mr. Bush and at the Pakistanian

Prime Minister, Benazir Bhutto, which

discussed a nuclear civilian pro-

program for Pakistan during his visit to

South Asia.

"We are going to continue to work even more closely with

Pakistan on counterterrorism and

It explained that Pakistan and India

are different countries with different needs and that, in the words of

Mr. Bush and at the Pakistanian

Prime Minister, Benazir Bhutto, which

discussed a nuclear civilian program for Pakistan during his visit to

South Asia.

"We are going to continue to work even more closely with

Pakistan on counterterrorism and

It explained that Pakistan and India

are different countries with different needs and that, in the words of

Mr. Bush and at the Pakistanian

Prime Minister, Benazir Bhutto, which

discussed a nuclear civilian program for Pakistan during his visit to

South Asia.
A Muslim Leader in Brooklyn, Reconciling Two Worlds

Continued From Page 1

News in America

Leading the clash calls for improvement. Islamists must unite diverse congregations with differing Islamic traditions. They must grapple with the threat of terrorism, as law enforcement agencies work to prevent acts of Islamic extremism.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.

Islam is a logical faith. Muslims believe it is a divine law that guides their daily lives, including what they eat, drink and wear. In countries where the religion is accepted, life is relatively peaceful. In others, people are divided by the birthright of Islam.
The NY Times - Sunday, March 5, 2006

FULL HEARTS AND A FULL HOUSE

Of Bay Ridge, attracted an overflow crowd. Since the mosque was founded a few blocks away in 1984, it has grown into a vital center for new Muslim immigrants.

Marriage, Mortgage, McDonald's

The most recent of the many small investors to open a McDonald's franchise.

TOMORROW

One of the greatest challenges facing imams in America since Sept. 11 is their relationship with the police and intelligence agencies, which has been strained by the controversy over the mosque's security. In fact, it was the mosque's security that led to the mosque being closed by the police in the aftermath of the 9/11 attacks.

On the other hand, the mosque has been praised for its efforts to promote understanding and tolerance. In particular, the mosque has hosted a number of events and programs aimed at fostering interfaith dialogue and promoting understanding between Muslims and other members of the community.

One of the mosque's most successful programs has been its interfaith dialogue series, which brings together Muslim leaders and members of other faith communities for open and honest discussions about issues of mutual concern. These events have been well-received, and have helped to build bridges of understanding and cooperation between Muslims and their neighbors.

In addition to its interfaith dialogue program, the mosque has also been active in promoting social justice and human rights. For example, it has spearheaded a campaign to raise awareness about the plight of refugees and migrants, and has worked to support organizations that help vulnerable populations around the world.

Overall, the mosque has demonstrated a commitment to building a more just and inclusive society, and has been a leader in promoting understanding and cooperation between Muslims and other members of the community. Its success in achieving these goals is a testament to the power of faith and community to bring about positive change in the world.}

Tough Boy

One of Mr. Shasta’s least favorite subjects is divorce. He is often called upon to counsel congregants like this one who want to end marriages.

Trust in God’s Plan

Seven months after he came to America, Mr. Shasta, a Nigerian native, was reunited with his wife and children in the United States.

Religion is a tool that empowers individuals to navigate the complexities of life. In moments of crisis and uncertainty, faith provides a sense of hope and guidance, allowing people to find meaning and purpose in their lives.

In the end, it is the power of faith and community that will help us overcome the challenges we face, and build a more just and inclusive society for all.