Cover story (Gaza settlement) that he helped found in 1984. A former army officer who quit a career in the secret service — a reference to his Taliban past — has been expelled from the second international conference on terrorism that he was invited to attend.

Whatever the outcome, the operation will be a major test of the government's ability to maintain its grip on the complex's 50,000 residents. It will also be a test of the government's ability to control the media and prevent the spread of information that could undermine its control.

Operation: Terror in the West Bank

The operation was launched in response to a series of terrorist attacks in the West Bank and East Jerusalem.

A Palestinian security force has been deployed to the area to prevent further attacks.

In Gaza, the operation was seen as a test of the government's ability to maintain its grip on the complex's 50,000 residents. It will also be a test of the government's ability to control the media and prevent the spread of information that could undermine its control.
